

David Sproule (B.of Music/RCM) is an experienced and passionate professional musician, accompanist, private piano teacher and church organist in the Kelowna area, with a keen interest in teaching piano for all ages and levels. Many of David's RCM piano exam students have received first class honours and honours with distinction and have excelled in music festivals. Several of David's students partake in either Royal Conservatory Exams or enter into music festivals or both on a yearly basis. David also teaches a broad spectrum of musical genres, from Baroque to 20th C, including jazz and popular music. He is always searching for more performance opportunities, not just for himself but for his students which provides musical experience and enhances musical & personal growth. David also provides in home piano lessons.